4071 Sjt Patrick Joseph Boyce, Enl.05Nov1915, RTA 18Dec1919. DCM LG 03Oct1918 'For conspicuous bravery and leadership. This N.C.O. was in charge of a section of a silent raiding party of 1 officer and 18 O.Rs who left our trenches at about 11.50 am on 18th May 1918 near Morlancourt and raided an enemy strong point. He organised his party at very short notice and led them in daylight across 90 yards of level No-Mans-Land without covering fire. The marked courage and leadership displayed by this N.C.O. in handling his party contributed materially towards the capture of 23 prisoners and 1 machine gun and getting his party back to our trenches without casualties to themselves. Four of the enemy were left dead in the strong point. Important identifications were obtained. On night 18/19th instant after the attack had gone forward, he was one of a very small party which mopped up parties - 16 in all - with a machine gun, who were sniping the troops consolidating. On the 18th instant, he, with one other, located an enemy post and brought in a machine gun'. MM LG 12Jun1918 'On the morning of 27th instant, our patrol encountered a strong enemy party on the Wambeek (Messines sector). The patrol officer was engaged in an effort to silence a hostile machine gun and left Sgt Boyce in charge of the main patrol. By his dash and determination the Sgt brought his men into contact with the enemy and broke their patrol up. Four of the enemy were killed, one was taken prisoner and some wounded'. DCM LG 16Aug1917 'For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of a raiding party when the officer was killed, and led them through intense rifle and machine gun fire until compelled to take shelter in shell holes. He remained for some time attending to the wounded, later working his way back to the front line, and personally conducting stretcher parties to bring in the dead and the wounded men. By his courage and resourcefulness he set a splendid example'. Extract from 'The Forty Third Battalion History' '... Sergeant G.A.C.Gardiner D.C.M. left with the original battalion as a private in D Company. From being a rather wild and irresponsible private, he changed into one of our best non-commissioned officers, and gradually worked his way up to the rank of Sergeant, by merit and capable leadership. He went through all the hardships and dangers of the winter of 1916-17, a winter which will always stand out for its severity and its vile weather. For his fine work, initiative, splendid dash, and courage in one of the famous daylight raids prior to Messines he won the Distinguished Conduct Medal. During that celebrated tour in the line at Messines at the end of June and the beginning of July, 1917, which was one of the hardest tests ever put on the battalion, and which is familiarly known as the 'eighteen days stunt', Gardiner was killed. He is buried just below the ruins, which is all that is left of what must have been a delightful little town, on the top of the Messines Hill. Messines was the battalion's first big fight in France, and the little crosses mark the resting place of some of its best men. Sergeant Gardiner was ever a cheery soul, and he was sadly missed'. MM LG 06Aug1918 CAG 12Dec1918 'During operations at Dernancourt S.W. of Albert on 28th March 1918, he displayed wonderful bravery and initiative. He was with two guns at the quarries (E.1.4.c), and when his officer was wounded he immediately assumed command and organised the defence of the locality. Later when the infantry were reinforcing the forward troops and were suffering numerous casualties, he showed utter disregard for personal danger in getting their wounded into safety. He went out again and again under heavy rifle, machine gun and artillery fire and was certainly responsible for saving many lives. His coolness and cheerfulness set a great example to his men'. Red Cross report - At Fleurbaix, a witness states, 'There was a bombardment of the Australian lines on the night of 30th May from 8.00 to 10.30pm. The smoke and noise was fearful. Hickson and Wallace were M.Gunners. They were reported by friends of witness to have jumped over the parapet with a Lewis Gun so as to get outside the smoke. Three parties of Germans assaulted the trenches. Hickson and Wallace may have been taken prisoners by them. If not prisoners they are dead. Hickson was a very young fellow who claimed to be eighteen and a half years of age.' Later it was found from POW reports that Wallace was a POW at Dulman in Westphalia and Hickson was hospitalised as a POW and then sent to Gardelegan POW Camp.

MC LG 9/5/1941, position 2646 Citation: Courage and daring in adverse circumstances at Tobruk on 21 Jan 41. Recommendation (approved by General Wavell C-in-C Middle East 26/2/41): During the advance of his Company a counter attack with tanks was launched by the enemy and the Company was halted by heavy machine gun and shell fire from tanks. One tank secured a position behind a sandbagged gun emplacement and effectively screened itself from fire from anti tank rifles. Lieutenant Wilmoth worked his way around this emplacement and single handed threw grenades under the tank and silenced its fire, enabling the Company to continue its advance. This action had a great encouraging effect on the men who witnessed it. He displayed courage and daring in the most adverse circumstances and his initiative and leadership contributed in no small measure to the success of his Company's advance. DCM LG 30/12/1941 Citation: On 29th May 41, at Crete, Pte Richards assisted and half carried Sgt. Kilpatrick, a hospital patient, across the Island to the beach at Sphakia. When invited by the Beach Staff to go off with Kilpatrick and be evacuated, he refused, saying that he would go back and get someone else who could not walk. On 1st June, having been left behind after the evacuation, Pte Richards recovered an invasion barge which had been abandoned by the navy, collected a party of 50, including two Marine Officers, took charge (with the concurrence of the Officers), laid in supplies of food and water at Favdos Island, effected repairs after the barge had been damaged on a reef, travelled 80 miles until the petrol gave out, rigged a sail with blankets, navigated to Sidi Barrani and landed the whole party in good heart and condition on 9th June. Pte Richards is a farmer. Harry Richards, Farm Hand, Perth, Enl.26Mar1940; served in the Middle East fighting through the desert campaign to Benghazi, then to Greece and Crete, where he was awarded the DCM for his deeds during the evacuation; later disciplined and court martialled several times for using abusive language to a superior until eventually placed under AMRO report of 'Anxiety State'; Disch.17Nov1944. $4,500

28526 L/Cpl Robert William Nicol. 8th N.Z. Field Company New Zealand Engineers WIA 25Sep1944 Italy. Granted an immediate MM. LG 10May1945 'On the night of 28/29 Jul 44, L/Cpl Nicol was in command of a sapper party clearing mines from tracks and roads leading north from Cerbaia to enable tanks and support weapons to follow close behind the leading infantry. L/Cpl Nicol carried out his duties in a fearless and efficient manner working through country covered by enemy mortar and machine gun fire, leading his mine clearing parties searching for anti personnel mines and trip wires and inspiring confidence in his men. When the mine clearing task was finished L/Cpl Nicol placed his section under cover and reported to the Infantry Headquarters to which he was attached. While he was there a counterattack developed and L/Cpl Nicol returned, collected his men and brought them to a house held by our infantry. he then acquired a Bren gun and took up a position at one of the windows and when driven from there by enemy fire he fought from another window. The enemy threw hand grenades, but though shaken by blast L/Cpl Nicol was not deterred from carrying on till the counterattack was repelled. During the whole night while leading his sappers and when fighting with the infantry, though he had been working for forty eight hours L/Cpl Nicol displayed outstanding qualities. His leadership, devotion to duty and complete disregard of personal safety under fire was of the highest order and the culminating point of several years excellent service as a soldier'.
